involving the
sobering aspects

nutritional

its core,
Dancing

informal,

engaging, and oftentimes dramatic stories that relate the author's experiences conducting research on infant feeding and health in Mali. Through fascinating vignettes and honest, vivid descriptions,

Dettwyler
explores such diverse topics
as
ethnocentrism,
culture shock,
population
control,
breastfeeding,
child care, the meaning of disability and child death in different cultures, female

circumcision,
women's roles in
patrilineal
societies, the dangers of fieldwork, and facing
emotionally
draining
realities.

Readers will laugh and cry as they meet the author's friends and informants, follow her through a series of encounters with both peri-urban and rural Bambara culture, and struggle with her as she attempts to reconcile her very different

friend, and mother in the field. The 20th
